

The hot-water system that makes time. And money.

H<sub>2</sub>O. Element of comfort.

Building a hot-water system from the ground up is no picnic. It takes quality materials and professional skills. And plenty of time.

Each project becomes a bottleneck that forces you to turn down other projects. And disappoint your customers.

AquaCompact from Alfa Laval is a complete, ready-to-use hot-water system for large volumes and variable consumption.

It's pre-assembled, pre-mounted, pre-wired, pre-tested and pre-set, making it extremely easy to install. It will take you hours rather than days.

As a result, you should see increased profits and improved cash flow. And happier customers.

www.alfalaval.com