If you have pharmaceutical production you're considering moving, then give me a call. You'll find me remarkably accommodating, to say the least.

That's because right now, our plant has more capacity than ever. Capacity that I would obviously like to see filled as soon as possible.

Our specialty is making aseptics in various forms – vials, ampoules and single-dose syringes. We're also really good with sprays – nasal and oral. Needless to say, we're FDA-approved. And ready to start as soon as you are.

So call me today. I'll make you an offer that's quite irresistible.
